DISTRICT HISTORY + MAP

The West Gervais Street Commercial District developed over a number of years as a mixed residential and transportation area with a myriad of train tracks and warehouses. The area transformed around the turn of the twentieth century, gaining retail buildings and losing residential ones. With the earliest railroad dating to the early 1840s, the earliest historic building dating to around 1846 and a heyday of commercial construction that continued into the 1930s, this area represents a commercial and warehouse district distinct from the city's historic retail business area along Main Street. The West Gervais Street Commercial District was listed in the National Register of Historic Places in 1983 and was designated a local Historic Commercial District in 1994.

Want to learn a few fun history facts about the Vista? Want to test your eye for architecture? Want to win fun prizes? Grab your friends and family, join the fun, and go explore the unique charm and history of the Vista!

Did you know?? The West Gervais Commercial District was re-branded as "The Congaree Vista" in the 1980s as part of a larger effort to revitalize the area. Revitalization efforts from the City involved investing in large projects to revamp the area including burying power lines and the railroad tracks for a more pedestrian friendly experience along the street.
