The City of Columbia extends our condolences, thoughts and prayers to the family of City Councilwoman Leona K. Plough. It is with deep sadness that we, as a city family, will work together to continue her legacy of community development and citizen empowerment. Over the years, Councilwoman Plough served our city in various roles including as a city employee, city manager and ultimately as a member of Columbia City Council. She touched many lives, developed numerous significant initiatives and was committed to a lifetime of service to the community. It is in that spirit that we will move forward with serving our citizens. We remain dedicated to providing quality services to the constituents in district IV and to the city as a whole. We will honor her memory through the provision of caring and continuous service delivery, which became her trademark through the years.
