

CITY OF COLUMBIA TO BE RECOGNIZED AS 2018 ALL-AMERICA CITY FINALIST

The City of Columbia will be among 20 finalists that will conduct presentations this week as a part of the All-America City designation process. The All-America City Awards is the flagship program of the National Civic League. Its spotlight this year is “Promoting Equity through Inclusive Civic Engagement.”

On Wednesday, March 21, 2018, the National Civic League proudly announced the City of Columbia as one of the top 20 All-America City finalists. The finalists will compete June 22-24 in Denver, CO to be recognized among the 10 annual All-America City winners. Each finalist represents the diversity of American communities from the largest cities to the smallest towns, from east to west and north to south. Both City Council members and City officials are showing their support for the City of Columbia in its attempt to become an All-America City.
